

Reception Autumn half term holiday homework

Reception children will be learning about different jobs in our community and will be visited by some people who help us in school such as the crossing warden, caretaker and school cook.

During outdoor provision the children will have the opportunity to problem solve and role-play being fire fighters. We will also be talking about fire safety linked to Diwali and Bonfire night.

Photographs will be displayed on our reception curriculum page on our school website at www.grovebham.sch.uk

During the holidays visit your local library and share some stories about people who help us. Find out about jobs people do and why they are important. What would happen if we didn't have doctors to look after us?

Children are asked to draw, paint or write about their favourite job. Work will be displayed on our People Who Help Us display in class so make sure your work is bright and colourful.

At school children will be asked to talk about the job they have chosen and how the job helps other people. Please encourage your child to do their own homework. Thank you for your continued support.

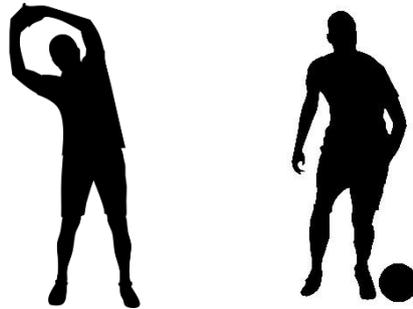

Please return to your teacher on Monday 4th November 2019
